DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-15, drawn to the template, classified in class 132, subclass 214.
 - II. Claims 16-26, drawn to the method of cutting hair, classified in class 132, subclass 200.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the template could be used in a materially different process, such as cutting a straight line on fabric.

2. Applicant's election of Group I in the reply filed on 8/22/2005 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).
3. Claims 14-26 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 8/22/2005.

Information Disclosure Statement

4. The "Fringe Kit ©MLIS, Inc. Brochure" filed on 3/30/2004 fails to comply with the provisions of 37 1.98 (b) because it does not contain a date of publication. Therefore, it has been withdrawn from consideration.

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: The headings should not be underlined.

Appropriate correction is required.

Drawings

2. New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because lines, numbers, and letters are not uniformly thick and well defined, clean, and durable 37 CFR 1.84(i). Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 1-4, 7, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hamilton (U.S. Patent No. 5,427,122). Hamilton discloses a hair-cutting device that has a first side (12) and second side (14) see Figure 1 (column 2, lines 12-14). The first side bearing indicia (68) see Figure 5 (column 3, lines 68-70), and the second side can be adapted to receive an adhesive. Regarding claim 2, the device is made of plastic (column 4, lines 15-16). Regarding claim 3, 4, and 7, the indicia comprises a straight or curved line (68) see Figure 5 (column 3 lines 67-68). Regarding claim 13, the strip of material has a preset length see Figure 1 (column 1, lines 41-42).

5. Claims 1-9, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Fearn et al. (U.S. Patent No. 6,818,271 B2). Fearn discloses a strip of material having a first side (12) and second side (22) see Figure 2 (column 3, lines 1-3). The first side bearing indicia. Regarding claim 2, the strip is plastic material (column 2, lines 5-6). Regarding claims 3, 4 and 7, the indicia comprises a graphical, straight or curved line

(14,16) see Figure 1 (column 2, lines 51-56). Regarding claim 5 and 6, the indicia comprises a graphical indicia and an embossment (14, 16) see Figure 2 (column 2, 55-56). Regarding claim 8, the second side comprises an adhesive layer (22) (column 3, lines 1-3). Regarding claim 9, the adhesive layer is protected by a peel-away strip (24) see Figure 2 (column 3, lines 20-25). Regarding claim 13, the strip of material has a preset length.

6. Claims 1-4, 7, 8, and 12 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Meyer et al (U.S. Patent Application 2002/0148134). Meyer discloses a strip of material having a first side (28) (paragraph 0014, lines 1-2) and second side (26) (paragraph 12, lines 1-5). The first side bearing indicia (102) see Figure 2. Regarding claims 3, 4 and 7, the indicia comprises a graphical, straight or curved line (102,104) see Figure 2 (paragraph 15). Regarding claim 8, the second side comprises an adhesive layer (26) (paragraph 12, lines 1-5). Regarding claim 12, the strip of material can be cut to a desired length by the user (paragraph 13, lines 6-7).

7. Claims 1-9, and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Buell (U.S. Patent No. 5,171,302). Buell discloses a strip of material having a first side (45) (column 6, lines 62-68) and second side (17) see Figure 5 (column 21, lines 43-45). The first side bearing indicia. Regarding claim 2, the strip is plastic material (column 6, lines 62-68). Regarding claims 3, 4 and 7, the indicia comprises a graphical, straight or curved line (23) see Figure 6 (column 23, lines 35-40). Regarding claim 5 and 6, the indicia comprises a graphical indicia and an embossment (23A) see Figure 8. Regarding claim 8, the second side comprises an adhesive layer (column 21, lines 40-

45). Regarding claim 9, the adhesive layer is protected by a peel-away strip see Figure

5. Regarding claim 13, the strip of material has a preset length.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hamilton. Hamilton discloses the claimed invention except the indicia comprising an embossment. However, it would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to emboss the indicia to make the graphical markings on the device last longer, because it is well known and readily practiced to add embossment to increase the longevity of indicia.

10. Claims 10 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to cut a line in a peel paper in order to facilitate the removal of the peel-away strip as acknowledged by applicant on page 4, line 4 in reference to an adhesive bandage. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice to make the cut horizontal instead of vertical since applicant has not disclosed that the horizontal cut solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with a vertical cut.
